BLISS WRITES ON COMING CITY ELECTION

SAYS WE MUST HAVE A PRO-GRESSIVE CITY GOVERN-MENT—CLEAN-CUT IS-SUES AND MEN TO REPRESENT
THEM.

Editor Pensacola Journal:

The time for the election of a mayor and several councilmen is drawing close to hand and the "wire-workers" are already busy. Pledges are already being sought and plans laid to protect certain interests by the election of certain people.

The time has also arrived for Pensacola to make a step forward in the line of progress, and nothing is more important to a step in line with progress than the election of a mayor and councilmen who are heart and soul in sympathy with progress and willing to look up their faith in the dim, distant future.

Two Classes of People.

In all cities and all localities there are two distinct classes of people; one class does things; they go ahead, are progressive, are not afraid to try, and accomplish something. The other class sometimes believes in doing things, but usually at some future time or in some impractical way. With them the present is usually good enough, and when a reform is spoken of they have ninety-seven objections, more or less, why it cannot or should not be done now and those objections stand good, good from year to year.
The prosperity of Pensacola depends very much on from which class the city officers are chosen.

Before Pensacola can be counted a progressive city it must make certain public improvements. We cannot lay claim to progressiveness so long as many of our streets have not been improved since the morning the Creator turned the earth over to Adam; nor while some of our streets present the marine effect of a choppy sea after each rain. Then again we have sections of public streets that would take the prize in any up-to-date city as a bait for a pestilence trap, (and this in spite of our eagle-eyed board of health who declare the sanitary conditions were never better.) Before we can have good streets we must have drainage. We must have sewers.

We must have a water works that can quintuple a stream of water to a second story window. We must have hy-drants that will not burst and let a house burn down, as in the recent case of the Burns firm.

Must Sell Bonds.

The way for Pensacola to get public improvements is to sell bonds and have officers who are capable and willing to use the money to the best advantage for the city. If an up-to-date water works is needed before either sewerage or paved streets, Mr. Pitt would not be a good man to elect as mayor for he would not favor a new water works, though he might be willing to sell his worn-out concern to the city for several prices, but the city would have nothing but a junk pile when it got it. Nor would it be good policy to elect Mr. Pitt's right hand man as mayor, nor his man Friday, nor any of that ring. Pensacolians who desire to see the city prosperous would do well to "stick a pin in that spot."

This question of public improvements must be carried into politics.
It is of no use to talk improvements for two years and then on election day elect men who are at heart opposed to them. We must know exactly where our candidates stand on these questions. And we must be reasonably sure of what they will do as well as of what they say they believe.

Another thing that should be demanded by the people is that men selected to fill important positions should at least have some claim beside favoritism for the position. There are men holding important positions who have demonstrated beyond a doubt their incompetency. If Pensacola would be progressive she must get practical men to manage her various departments.

Don't Make Pledges.

If the citizens of Pensacola desire to see the city progress then let them be in no hurry about pledging themselves to this or that candidate. In this case "make haste slowly." Your votes will not spoil. Wisdom would dictate that you know all the candidates so far as possible before making a choice.

Heretofore the city elections have been largely a scramble for office almost irrespective of politics. Let us hope this will not be the case this year. In this election let us have clean-cut issues and candidates whose policies are above suspicion.

CHAS. H. BLISS.

MARDI GRAS
PARADE FLOATS

THEY ARE MARVELS OF BEAUTY AND WILL FORM FINEST SPECTACLE IN CITY'S HISTORY.

Upon the invitation of F. F.
Bingham, chairman of the building committee of the Carnival Association, a Journal representative visited the association's shed, where the floats, which will appear in the parade Mardi Gras night, March 7th, are now receiving the finishing touches by artist Theodore Weber.

The privilege of visiting the carnival shed before the floats are placed in the parade, is accorded only to representatives of the press, who are required to take all manner of oaths of secrecy, before even they are permitted to invade the mysterious precincts of artist Weber's workshop, therefore it would require the violation of many obligations for the writer to particularize upon what was shown him on yesterday. Generalities, however, are not barred, hence no secrets are divulged in stating that the parade this year will be composed of twelve floats, each representing a subject which will be understood by every child who witnesses the parade. Each of these floats is an artistic creation, and the most difficult problem which The Journal man had to solve during the course of his inspection, was that of selecting the one which appealed most to his sense of the beautiful.

The question is still unsolved, but it was easy to arrive at the conclusion that the 1905 parade will unquestion-ably be pronounced the most unique and beautiful which has ever been gotten out by the Carnival Association; and that if there are those in Pensacola who contemplate visiting other cities for the Mardi Gras festivities infinitely more will be missed than gained.

Public is Aroused.

The public is aroused to a knowledge of the curative merits of that great medicinal tonic, Electric Bitters, for sick stomach, liver and kidneys.
Mary H. Walters, of 546 St. Clair Ave., Columbus, O., writes: "For several months, I was given up to die. I had fever and ague, my nerves were wrecked; I could not sleep, and my stomach was so weak, from useless doctors' drugs, that I could not eat.
Soon after beginning to take Electric Bitters, I obtained relief, and in a short time I was entirely cured." Guaranteed at all druggists, price 50 cents.

DISTRICT
MEETING

OF KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS AT DA-MON HALL WAS A GREAT SUCCESS.

Knights of Pythias.

Interest is reviving in the various K. of P. lodges in this city and the indications are they will all experience an unusually successful year.
The district meeting, which met with Damon lodge and conferred the rank of Page on two candidates, was a most successful one, and great enthusiasm in the work was shown.

After Damon lodge adjourned the district meeting was called to order by Thos. F. Wrighton, D. D. G. C. and the following officers were appointed:
R. Hilliard, G. V.; J. E. Williams, G.
P.; C. Fredrickson, G. M. of A.; H.
Horsler, G. K. of R., and Jas. Neville, G. M. of F. After the newly appointed officers had taken their places the roll of the lodges in the district was called. Several letters were then read from noted members of the K. of P. residing in different parts of the state regretting their inability to be present.

D. D. G. C. Thos. F. Wrighton delivered an eloquent address of welcome after which Scott M. Loftin made some impressive remarks on the subject of Friendship. P. G. C. C. B.
Parkhill was next on the program and made an eloquent address on the subject of Charity. He was followed by Henry Horsler, president of the endowment rank, in an address upon the workings of that branch of the order, which was listened to with great interest. Several other addresses were made by visiting Pythians from other states.

At the conclusion of the speaking the crowd adjourned to the ante-room where a delicious repast, prepared by the Rathbone Sisters, was greatly enjoyed. Brothers Loftin and Parkhill thanked the Rathbone Sisters on behalf of those present in most eloquent and fitting manner for the bounteous repast and for the interest they manifested in the order.

It is expected that much good will grow out of these district meetings and that, in consequence, the order will continue to thrive in this city.

Knights of Honor.

The Knights of Honor are again coming prominently to the front throughout the state of Florida. During the month of January there were about 250 new members taken into the order. T. F. Wrighton, G. D., is doing some good work for the order.

SAGE LEAVES FROM BRENT

NEWS AND COMMENT FROM PEN-SACOLA'S LIVELY SU-BURB.

Brent, Feb. 18.—Another "champion" week has terminated in the restoration of normal conditions.

After the sun's apparent withdrawal from Southern skies, and floods of icy water threatened to deluge the earth, we have experienced the coldest term of the winter, and the lowest minimum in several years.

It scored 14 degrees on the morning of the 14th inst., after having been above 70 degrees on the 12th. This being coupled with a northern "hurricane" has paralyzed our winter gardens. Jack Frost has gotten away with more greens than the combined forces of midnight raiders had previously captured.

Such a visitation as this in the "Land of Flowers" means an incalculable aggregate loss. Sixteen degrees at Jacksonville tells a long tale of blighted hopes in withered vegetable life. The previous cold rains had been very damaging—rendering the crops for the freeze to finish.

Our farmers have dropped the plow and gone to cutting wood.

The readers of The Journal find some entertainment in the Bliss-full portrayal of "corruptive" water works, and Uncle Sam's expensive trial of Judge Swayne full of court-room corruption also.

Our Brent school has steamed through the trying "waves" of the past week of grippy weather.

At the M. E. church there will be services on the third Sabbath of each month. The new pastor, Rev. J. W.
Breedlove, appears to give good satisfaction. If he tells us half our meanness and shortcomings and goings he will fill the pulpit well.

The quarterly conference will be held at the Escambia church on Friday, the 24th inst., where Elder W. H.
Wade will preside. Henry Clifton will represent the Brent church at the conference.
